

FEDERATION AID IN COAL TIE-UP DUE TO LABOR POLITICS

also absolutely convinced that the best service they can render the country in the present crisis is to preserve solidarity in the ranks of labor and hold the radicals in check from within.

But the evidence to date would seem to indicate that Mr. Gompers and his associates are having little success. The test came first in the steel strike, when Mr. Gompers admittedly failed to prevent the strike which he himself disapproved. His efforts last week at the Department of Justice were predicated on the assumption that he could influence the judgment of the leaders of the miners, but that too has now gone by the boards, so that Government officials are wondering how much power Mr. Gompers has in the ranks of labor.

GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS DOUBT POWER OF GOMPERS.

They were not, therefore, disposed to become unduly excited over the statement issued by the Executive Committee of the American Federation of Labor, realizing, indeed, that the pronouncement was a matter of necessity in the industrial politics of the situation.

Nevertheless, the fact that the statement would be widely read and perhaps interpreted as the beginning of a general attack on the authority of the Government by labor caused Administration officials to urge the issuance of a reply by the Attorney General pointing out that if the miners and their families were suffering as a result of the order forbidding them to get strike benefits, there were, on the other hand, many millions of American people suffering or about to suffer even worse privations because of a conspiracy on the part of the miners' leaders to stop the production of coal.

Others in Administration quarters took the view that the matter was entirely now in the Federal Courts and that it was up to Judge Anderson in Indianapolis, who has issued a mandatory injunction ordering the coal miners to call off their strike by Tuesday night of this week. Judge Anderson is the kind of individual who brooks no compromises or delays, but acts decisively. He sentenced the score of Structural Iron Workers who were convicted of conspiring to dynamite industrial establishments, and he has always handled labor questions with fearlessness and courage. He is on the bench for life and cares nothing about the political effects of his action.

tions. He sees matters through the cold eyes of the law.

JUDGE ANDERSON WON'T HESITATE TO USE ALL POWER.

Should the strike leaders refuse to obey the injunction he is the sort of individual who wouldn't hesitate a minute to order the arrest of these men for contempt of court and should resistance be attempted, would ask the whole power of the Government, all its Deputy Marshals and all its troops to secure obedience to the orders of his court. It would be within the power of Judge Anderson, should he desire to do so, to issue an order requiring individual miners to disregard the strike call and return to work or to prove that their violation of their contracts is not the result of the strike order which in itself has been declared illegal. Individuals cannot be compelled to go to work against their will, but they may be held responsible for participating in a conspiracy to refrain from fulfilling their contracts or engagements.

There is no telling what new precedents may be established in dealing with this case. But the significant fact is that the efforts to negotiate a compromise by withdrawing the strike order at the same time that the injunction proceedings were dismissed have now failed and that the big question is how the Federal Government means to enforce the decrees of its courts.

Fire Threatens 13,000-Ton Ship. CAMDEN, N. J., Nov. 10.—A fierce fire to-day in the hold of the 13,000-ton steamship Sea Girl, under construction at the yard of the New York Shipbuilding Corporation, resisted the efforts of the fire department for a long while before it was finally extinguished.

HOSPITAL GETS $250,000 GIFT FROM GUGGENHEIMS

Mt. Sinai Announces Money to Be Used for Patients' Pavilion as Guggenheim Memorial.

Mt. Sinai Hospital to-day announced receipt of a gift of $250,000 from the Guggenheim brothers—Daniel, Murry, Isaac, Simon and Solomon—which brings their total donations to the institution up to $400,000.

The money will be used for the erection of a pavilion for patients and this will be a memorial to the parents of the donors. The pavilion will cover the entire block on Fifth Avenue, between 99th and 100th Streets. The building was planned before the war on a smaller scale, but was held up for lack of materials. It will accommodate 120 patients in private rooms. One of the new features will be an electrical device by which the heart action of a patient can be studied by surgeons in a central office while the patient lies undisturbed in his bed. Construction work will be started in the Spring.
